Foreword to the First Edition

The Basic Serials Cataloging Workshop was the first course developed by the Serials Cataloging Cooperative Training Program, a program inaugurated in 1998 under the auspices of the CONSER Program. Since its release in 1999, the workshop has been given in numerous venues throughout the United States and has been translated into Spanish, French, and Chinese for workshops presented in Mexico, Canada, and Taiwan. The success of this course has led to the development of other workshops and today, in 2002, there are four courses with a fifth under development. SCCTP has also been hailed as a “best practice” for continuing education of librarians.

The enthusiasm and commitment of so many to this program attests to the great need for training in the area of serials cataloging. I am very grateful to the members of the SCCTP Steering Committee, to those who have helped fund the Program: NASIG, AMIGOS, SOLINET, and PALINET, and most particularly to Cameron Campbell for his expertise and hard work in developing this very thorough course in basic serials cataloging. Thanks are also extended to the many SCCTP trainers who have brought their experience and talents to presenting this course.

Over the years since its development, the course has been revised several times. The 2002 revision reflects the 2002 revision of AACR2. In addition to revising the content, the format of the course has been revised to reflect the use of PowerPoint as the basis for the trainee and instructor manuals and distribution in PDF format. Course contents have also been expanded in some cases based on suggestions from experienced trainers. I want to thank Les Hawkins, Ann Ercelawn, Steve Shadle, and Valerie Bross for their very useful comments and suggestions.

Further course materials may be developed based on demand as expressed on the evaluation sheet in Appendix I. It is hoped that SCCTP will branch out into distance learning, mentoring, and other forms of learning as the program matures.

This workshop was designed to be given by SCCTP trained-trainers; however, anyone familiar with serials cataloging can use the materials to provide training for others. They can also be used for self-study. Comments on the materials are most welcome.

Preface

The materials in this manual are organized into nine sessions; all but session one have exercises. Some sessions are optional and portions of others are optional. Any given workshop may include all the topics or only a portion of them. Even if some material is not used in the workshop you attend, the material may prove useful reading at a later time.

Each session may start with a brief warm up exercise and will conclude with a summary of the major points presented and references to relevant CONSER documentation. Exercises have also been provided for sessions two through nine to reinforce the major points covered in the preceding material.

At the end of each workshop we ask that you fill out a brief evaluation form. This will be most helpful in refining and re-working the training materials as well as their presentation. Your help in this is appreciated.

Workshop goals

- Identify serials and distinguish them from monographs and integrating resources
- Become familiar with MARC 21 tags used for serials
- Create original serials cataloging records
- Identify “appropriate” serial copy and needed edits
- Introduce the cataloging of electronic serials

Session 1: Introduction

- Where do serials fit in the world of continuing resources?
- How does serials cataloging differ from the cataloging of monographs and integrating resources?
- What are the current conventions and practices?
- What tools are available?

Serials, Seriality, and Continuing Resources

- Serials are one category of “continuing resource”
- Integrating resources are the other category
- Both exhibit seriality because they are issued or updated over time and can change
- They are issued in a different manner and thus, the cataloging rules for them differ

Representation of Bibliographic Resources in AACR2

Serial Cataloging Records

- Reflect the whole publication
- Are dynamic because they incorporate changes over time
- Are cooperative creations (e.g., one library may create the record, another may update it)
- Are important to the overall control of the serial and often are essential to other records (holdings, check-in)

Successive Entry Cataloging

- Convention applied to all serials cataloged according to AACR2
- Any major change results in the creation of a new (successive) record
- Records are linked using 780/785 fields

A Many to Many Relationship

Summary

- Serials are one type of continuing resource
- Serials are dynamic publications that exhibit many variations over the course of their publication history
- There are many useful tools in print and online to assist serials catalogers

12

Session 2: What is a Serial?

- What is the definition of a serial?
- What are the common characteristics of serials?
- What types of publications are or are not typically cataloged as serials?
- What MARC tags are most commonly used for serials?

- issued in a succession of discrete parts
- usually bearing numbering
- that has no predetermined conclusion

Important Elements of the Definition

- Succession of discrete parts (necessary)
- Numbering (usually)
- No predetermined conclusion (necessary)

Also Treat as Serials:

Publications of limited duration (AACR2 12.0A)

- Have similar characteristics and functions of serials but have a predetermined conclusion
- Examples: Newsletters from conferences, quarterly reports of projects, etc.

Summary

- Three criteria for serials: successive parts, numbering, no predetermined conclusion
- Certain resources require special considerations relating to access, control, etc.
- When unsure, review LCRI 1.0, search for records on databases, consider the needs of your library
- MARC tags for serials include special note fields and linking fields

Summary

- Base the description on the chief source of the first or earliest available issue in hand
- The chief source is the title page or its substitute (cover, caption, etc.)
- Most serials are entered under title
- Uniform titles are sometimes used to distinguish different serials with the same title (entered under title)
- Record the title proper as it appears on the chief source, except for capitalization, punctuation and omissions
- Record other title information when considered useful
- There are important differences between the CONSER Standard Record and former practice

27

Session 3: Exercises

Use the workforms provided in Appendix D to record the cataloging data from the information provided in the following pages.

Use Appendix G for MARC tagging (don't worry about the indicators).

1. Select the chief source;
2. transcribe and tag the title proper;
3. select and tag a main entry, if any;
4. make any title added entries thought useful; and
5. indicate any other title-related notes needed (i.e., source of title, description based on, latest issue consulted)

Session 5: Working with Copy: Finding Appropriate Records

How do I identify the "most appropriate" serial record?

- Is it the same publication?
- Is it for the right physical format?
- Do the dates fit?
- Is the record AACR2?
- How authoritative is the record?

Session 6: Working with Copy: What to Edit?

- Which edits are critical?
- Which edits are needed for access?
- Which edits are needed for serials control?
- How do I edit a pre-AACR2 record?
- How do I edit a pre-CSR record?
- What doesn't need to be changed?

Criteria for Editing Copy

- Local decision
- Report the desired change to your utility?
- Added value for end users and processing staff
- Other fields may need editing:
  - Input standards for local system and utility
  - Deriving reports from your system

Keep in Mind ...

- Do not edit records to conform to new standard
- Do not delete data unless incorrect
- Records may contain a mix of old and new practices (as always)
- Watch out for consolidation of CONSER records

Do Not Edit:

- "Minor" changes in place of publication that do not affect the 008 fixed field coding for Country of Publication; e.g., changes in city, but not state or country of publication
- Numerous numbering peculiarities (515 fields)
- Variations in subtitle or other title information

31

Summary

- Compare the pieces in hand with copy selected to determine whether changes have occurred
- Limit editing to:
  - Critical edits (major changes, etc.)
  - Fields that affect access
  - Fields that affect serials control
- When possible, edit pre-AACR2 records in the style of the record

Session 7: When Do I Need a New Record?

- What constitutes a major title change?
- What other situations require a new record?
- How do I close out a title that has ceased?
- How do I link records?

Decision Process for Determining Major Title Changes

- Documentation
  - AACR2: 21.2C1, 21.3B (Related LCRIs)
  - CONSER Cataloging Manual, module 16
- Did the publisher really intend to change the title?
- Look at all the issues in hand
- Check in OCLC

Major and Minor Changes

AACR2 uses the concepts of “major change” and “minor change” as follows:

- A major change is a change that requires a new record
- A minor change does not require a new record and can be noted in the record when important

Major and Minor Changes

- Major changes include:
  - Major changes in title
  - Changes in corporate body main entry or corporate body uniform title qualifier, when it is part of the main entry
  - Edition statement (in some cases)
  - Physical medium
- Minor changes include:
  - Minor title changes
  - Numbering
  - Edition statement (in some cases)
  - Other changes to uniform title qualifiers

Changes in Title Proper

A Few Considerations

- Consider only the title proper ($a, $n, $p)
  - Changes to other title information do not matter!
- When considering whether a title has changed, always test it against the title proper (field 245)
  - Not against the latest variant in 246!

Major Title Changes

= Changes that occur in the first five words (or six when initial article)

(Note: there are many new exceptions to this rule in the minor change rule!)

The vocational guidance quarterly → Career development quarterly

Iowa historical record → Iowa journal of history

Chemical engineering and mining review → Mining & chemical engineering review

Major Title Changes

= Changes that occur after the first five words that change the meaning of the title or the scope of the serial

The best bed & breakfast in the world → The best bed and breakfast in England, Scotland, & Wales

World meetings. Social & behavioral sciences, education & management →

World meetings. Social & behavioral sciences, human services & management

Major Title Changes

= The name of the corporate body given in the title changes (note: the change would require a new heading)

Reports of the Institute of High Speed Mechanics,
Tohoku University

Reports of the Institute of Fluid Science, Tohoku
University

Minor Title Changes

- AACR2 21.2C2b (CCM 16.2.4) lists 9 categories of minor changes
- Some of these are exceptions to the major change rule

10

Minor Title Changes

Includes 9 provisions:

- Category i. Representation of a word
- Category ii. Articles, prepositions, conjunctions
- Category iii. Name of corporate body
- Category iv. Punctuation
- Category v. Order of titles (parallel titles)
- Category vi. Words linking to numbering
- Category vii. Fluctuating titles
- Category viii. Words in a list
- Category ix. Words that denote type of resource

11

Minor Title Changes: Category i

Changes in the representation of a word or words

- Includes case, plural vs. singular, spelled out vs. abbrev., space vs. hyphen, etc.
- Now also includes acronyms and initialisms vs. full form

Africa news → African news
Fishery report → Fisheries report
Saint Paul report → St. Paul report

13

Minor Title Changes: Category iii

- Name of same corporate body is:
  - added or dropped anywhere in the title
  - Or parts of the hierarchy are added/dropped
  - Or the form of the name is changed (e.g., from full to abbreviated form)
- Also included:
  - Names of officials
  - Recipients of reports

14

Examples of Category iii

Europe through the back door

15

Minor Title Changes: Category viii

- Addition to, deletion from, or change in the order of words in a list anywhere in the title, provided that there is no significant change in the subject matter
- LCRI: consider a list to consist of at least 3 or more terms.

16

Examples of Category viii

Jenchuan, Chinnampo, Kunsan, Mokpo,
Fusan, Masampo, Wonsan, and Songchin

30

Changes in Physical Medium

31

Major Changes

Generally, changes that involve medium (GMD, 245 $h) and/or the SMD (300 $a) are considered to be major:

130 0- $a Serials directory (Birmingham, Ala.)

245 14 $a The serials directory : $b an international reference book.

Continued by:

130 0- $a Serials directory (Birmingham, Ala. : CD-ROM ed.)

300 $a CD-ROMs

Minor Changes

Changes that do not occur at the level of the GMD (245 $h) or SMD (300 $a) are considered to be minor

- E.g., for electronics serials: file formats, physical details such as sound, motion, etc.
- E.g., for microforms: reduction ratio, generation

33

Changes in Edition Statement

34

Edition Statement

Changes in the edition statement that indicate a change in the subject matter or physical medium are major; other changes are minor

- Major: North American ed. → North and Central American ed.
- Minor: Doctor's ed. → Physician's ed.

35

Changes in Numbering

36

Numbering Changes = Minor!

Use 362 or 515, whichever is clearer

362 1- $a Began with volume 1, number 1 (Jan. 1960); ceased with volume 5, number 6 (June 1964); new series began with volume 1, number 1 (July 1964).

362 0- $a Vol. 1, no. 1 (Jan. 1960)-v. 5, no. 6 (June 1964) ; [new ser.], v. 1, no. 1 (July 1964)-

If new numbering scheme:

362 1- $a Began with no. 1; original numbering ended with no. 15; new numbering began with v. 1, no. 1, published in 1964.

37

Closing Out a Record

Always record the following:

008 Publication status: code as "d" (dead)

008 Ending date: code as [e.g.] 1990 (date known); 199u (decade known); or 19uu (century known); etc.

785 Link to later title

362 Closing Designation

There are several possibilities:

Add to existing 362 0_ (pre-CSR)

362 0- $a 1963-1983.

or

Add a separate unformatted note (362 1_)

362 0- $a 1963-

362 1- $a Ceased in 1983.

Be consistent with chosen method (i.e., if using “pre-CSR rules”, update 260 $c, “Description based on” note, etc. accordingly)

39

Linking Records

- 780/785 linking fields most common (earlier/later titles)

- 580 linking entry complexity note:

580 -- $a Continues a print publication with the same title.

Summary

- Most major changes involve title changes
- There are 9 (nine) minor-change “exceptions”
- Other changes involve corporate bodies, physical media, edition
- Once a major change has occurred, the old record is closed off and linked to the new record
- Fields 780/785 are used to link records with major changes

Session 7: Exercises

In part A, indicate whether the change is major or minor according to the rules given below. The emphasis in this section is simply on recognizing when a new record is required.

In part B, complete the abbreviated workforms to indicate the tagging and coding of the relevant bibliographic data. The emphasis in this section is on closing out the old record and tagging and coding the bibliographic data in the new record or editing an existing record.

From AACR2:

If a major change occurs in the title proper of a serial, make a new entry.

21.2C2. Definition of major and minor title changes for serials

a) Major changes. In general, consider as a major change in a title proper of a serial the addition, deletion, change, or reordering of any of the first five words (the first six words if the title begins with an article) unless the change belongs to one or more of the categories listed in 21.2C2b.

Consider also as a major change the addition, deletion, or change of any word after the first five words (the first six words if the title begins with an article) that changes the meaning of the title or indicates a different subject matter.

Also consider as a major change in title proper a change in a corporate body name given anywhere in the title if it is a different corporate body.

b) Minor changes. In general, consider the following to be a minor change in a title proper of a serial:

- i) a difference in the representation of a word or words anywhere in the title (e.g., one spelling vs. another; abbreviated word or sign or symbol vs. spelled-out form; arabic numeral(s) vs. roman numeral(s); numbers or dates vs. spelled-out form; hyphenated words vs. unhyphenated words; one-word compounds vs. two-word compounds, whether hyphenated or not; an acronym or initialism vs. full form; or a change in grammatical form (e.g., singular vs. plural))
- ii) the addition, deletion, or change of articles, prepositions, or conjunctions anywhere in the title
- iii) a difference involving the name of the same corporate body and elements of its hierarchy or their grammatical connection anywhere in the title (e.g., the addition, deletion, or rearrangement of the name of the same corporate body or the substitution of a variant form)
- iv) the addition, deletion, or change of punctuation, including initialisms and letters with separating punctuation vs. those without separating punctuation, anywhere in the title

- v) a different order of titles when the title is given in more than one language in the chief source of information, provided that the title chosen as title proper still appears as a parallel title
- vi) the addition, deletion, or change of words anywhere in the title that link the title to the numbering
- vii) two or more titles proper used on different issues of a serial according to a regular pattern
- viii) the addition to, deletion from, or change in the order of words in a list anywhere in the title, provided that there is no significant change in the subject matter
- ix) the addition, deletion, or rearrangement anywhere in the title of words that indicate the type of resource such as “magazine,” “journal,” or “newsletter” or their equivalent in other languages.

In case of doubt, consider the change to be a minor change.

Part A

Indicate whether the following situations constitute a major or minor change. For major changes, indicate the reason; for minor changes, the category under rule 21.2C2 that applies.

Session 8: Electronic Serials

- What is an electronic serial?
- What is the chief source for electronic serials?
- What fixed fields are appropriate for electronic serials?
- How do other elements of descriptive cataloging differ?

What is an Electronic Serial?

- Same definition applies (must have successive discrete issues or parts, numbering, no predetermined conclusion)
- LCRI 1.0 gives more guidance
- Some things may differ, however:
  - May have numbered articles
  - Numbering may be different
  - Bibliographic information may be scattered
- Many are distributed as part of aggregations

What is not an Electronic Serial?

The following are integrating resources:

- Updating Web sites
CONSER Web site
- Updating databases
ProQuest
- Online public access catalogs
OCLC Worldcat

Direct and Remote Access Serials

- Direct access serials are those published on a carrier, such as a disc, that is intended to be inserted into a computer. Examples include serials on floppy disks, CD-ROM, DVD-ROM.
- Remote access electronic serials are those accessed via the Internet, email, etc. They are commonly called online serials. Examples include electronic journals, newsletters, newspapers.

Format and Fixed Fields

- Language material:
  - 008 (continuing resources fixed field)
  - 006 (electronic resource) (1st byte “m”)
  - 007 (electronic resource physical description (1st two bytes: “c”, and “r” [for remote], or (normally) “o” [for CD-ROM])
- Programs, games, fonts, numeric data, computer-oriented multi-media online systems and services:
  - 008 (electronic resource fixed field; not CR!)
  - 006 (CR)
  - 007 (electronic resource physical description)

Form of Item, Original Item

- At present, CONSER is not treating any online serial as an electronic reproduction because of the difficulty of determining what the original form is.
- The current CONSER practice for coding records for textual electronic serials is:

|                           |      |   |       |
|---------------------------|------|---|-------|
| 008/23 (Form of item)     | Form | s |       |
| 008/22 (Form of original) | Orig | ■ | (CSR) |

- If information regarding the first issue is available:

362 1- $a Began with disc 1 (1785/1979).

Remote Access Electronic Serials

- Resources issued in designated parts for an indefinite period in electronic format
- Typically accessed by means of a browser via the Internet
- No physical carrier

Types of Online Serials

- Reproductions, republications, simultaneous editions of print titles
  - Issued by original print publisher, a contracted third party or as part of a digital library project
- E-serials “born digital,” that is, originally published online
  - Some of these may later appear in cumulated print format

23

Types of Online Serials

Titles that are part of a database of aggregated titles:

- May vary in completeness of reproduction and coverage of issues
- May be the most predominate type of e-serial that libraries purchase and need to control

24

Aggregator/Provider-Neutral Record

CONSER/OCLC guidelines:

- If no record exists (and not using single record approach): create a record
  - Based on publisher Web site if readily available or on the version you have
- If a record exists, use that record (even though it might not represent the aggregator/provider you have)
  - Add your URL (if authorized or report addition to OCLC)

25

Aggregator/Provider-Neutral Record

CONSER/OCLC guidelines:

- For existing records, do not add notes, added entries, etc. for the aggregator/provider
- If multiple records exist:
  - Select one (prefer CONSER record)
  - Add your URL
  - Report duplicates to OCLC

Sources of Information

Basis of the description

– First or earliest issue for:

- Title and statement of responsibility (245)
- Edition (250)
- Beginning numbering/date if available (362)
- Item described (500 “Description based on”)
- Publication information (260, $a, $b)

– Other issues or parts for:

- Series
- Notes (e.g., Latest issue consulted)
- Standard number and availability

29

Chief Source of Information

- 9.0B1: The chief source of information for electronic resources is the resource itself. Take the information from formally presented evidence (e.g. title screen(s), main menus, program statements, initial display(s) of information, home page(s), the file header(s) ...
- If the information presented in these sources varies in degree of fullness, prefer the source that provides the most complete information.
- So the source of title proper should be the most complete presentation of title (AACR2 9.0B1) in conjunction with the first or earliest available issue (AACR2 12.0B1).

30

Main and Added Entries

- Make decisions about 1XX main entry and 7XX added entries as you would any serial
- Uniform title only for generic titles and monographic series:

130 0- $a Monthly bulletin (Reserve Bank of Zimbabwe :
Online)

245 10 $a Monthly bulletin $h [electronic resource].

On record for print version:

130 0- $a Monthly bulletin (Reserve Bank of Zimbabwe)

245 10 $a Monthly bulletin.

31

Aggregator/Provider Names

- Per the aggregator-neutral guidelines don't include the name of an aggregator/provider as part of:
  - uniform titles
  - 550 issuing body notes
  - 710's
  - 4XX/8XX series statements/series added entries
- The record will represent all online versions of the title

32

Title Added Entries

- Be liberal with title variants in field 246; there may be many variants on an online serial
- For the aggregator-neutral record, make added entries for title variants on other provider versions with the wording:

246 1- $i Issues from some providers have title: $a [Title]

33

Title Proper

- Construct as for print. Note provision in 1.1B1 to omit introductory words, such as “welcome to”
- Add GMD $h [electronic resource] (same as with direct access)
- Always: DBO note with source of title, source of description (provider), and date the resource was viewed for cataloging

500 -- $a Description based on issue 4 (May 2007); title from table of contents screen (JSTOR, viewed Oct. 27, 2007).

34

Title Proper

More title source notes:

- 500 -- $a Title from contents screen
(publisher's Website, viewed Jan. 27, 1999).
- 500 -- $a Description based on Vol. 5, no. 1
(Jan. 1995); title from contents page
(Eastview, viewed June 10, 2003).

35

Edition Statement

- Example: 250 -- $a Web ed.
- Generally don't consider separate file formats to be separate editions, e.g., articles of a serial available both as HTML and PDF formatted documents.

36

Numbering

- If first issue is available or known:
245 00 $a Serial title X
362 1- $a Began with v. 1, no. 1 (Jan. 1995).
- If beginning/ending numbering of the print version is known:
245 00 $a Serials title Y
362 1- $a Print began with vol. 3, no. 1 (Jan. 1984).

37

Numbering

DBO note, whether first issue is available or not 362 1- $a Began with Band 10, Nummer 12 (Mai 2005).

Call for submissions page:

Cultronix invites submissions for our fifth issue, titled "Position/Possession". Cultronix 5 will attempt to map the intersections of position and possession. We see this as necessary in the case of the Internet, which has been territorialized using spatial metaphors (like web, highway, network, mall, community, market, and frontier), to quietly reproduce a preexisting structure on a new imaginary space without public critical inquiry. This issue might include submissions on copyright, disperse communities, spams, censorship... Articles that discuss how these cultural geographies understand the world in terms of property (including intellectual property) are especially encouraged. Questions or discussions of the utility, boundaries or limits of this topic are welcome on our mailing list. Submissions may be in plain-text, formatted text, graphics, audio, video or interactive multimedia. Contact us by e-mail or fax if you have questions about the file formats we recommend and/or can support.

We invite you to take a look back not only to Hawaii in the 1930s, but also to RETRO's very first issue.

Our feature articles on Hawaii set the pattern for RETRO by combining musical selections in RealAudio, QuickTime movies, and a rich collection of vintage graphics and ephemera.

The illustration above, for example, once graced the dinner menu of a Matson cruise ship that plied the route between San Francisco and Honolulu, beginning in the 1930s.

About Retro page:

What is RETRO?

RETRO is an online magazine that celebrates classic popular culture of the first three-fourths of the 20th century. We feature articles on vintage personalities, politics, music, media & entertainment, fashion, design, decorating and a whole lot more.

RETRO is written for people who are vintage period enthusiasts. We strive to take a lighthearted, informative approach to the classics of 20th century popular culture and style. And we search hard for the offbeat instead of the mainstream. We firmly believe that quality never goes out of style. Our mission is to help people enjoy life more in the present by grooving on the finest of the past.

How do I subscribe to your print magazine?

There is no print version of RETRO. RETRO is 100% online and electronic. And it's free.

How can I tell what's new?

A new issue of RETRO, with new feature articles, is posted the first of each month. The Table of Contents always shows what's new -- it's the best place to look.

Session 9: What is the Serial About?

- How does subject cataloging for serials differ from monographs?
- How many subject headings are appropriate?
- How do I go about assigning subject headings?
- How are serials classified?

Subject Headings

- Assign headings for the whole serial, not for a single issue
  - May need to review the general scope of the serial to be sure that headings are broad enough
- Typically 1-3 subject headings in standard records
- Most important subject comes first and relates to call number

Subject Headings

- Assign more than one heading when there is more than one predominant topic

Example: South African review of books

650 -0 $a South African literature (English) $y 20th century $v Book reviews $v Periodicals.

651 -0 $a South Africa $v Book reviews $v Periodicals.

Strategies for Assigning Subjects

For title changes:

- Same subject headings as in the old title record
- Evaluate the headings:

Labor and laboring classes (no longer valid)
use:

Working class
Labor movement
and/or Labor

- Add new headings if scope has been expanded

Strategies for Assigning Subjects

- Look at the contents page, scope statements in a masthead, editorial commentary, instructions to authors, etc. for key words and phrases
- Search your OPAC
- Use significant words from the title

Special Cases: Annual Reports, etc.

- When corporate body is subject, give in 610
- Give also a topical heading if report covers activities on a topic
  - 245 10 $a Annual report of the Library of Congress.
  - 610 20 $a Library of Congress $v Periodicals.
  - 650 0- $a Libraries $z United States $v Periodicals.

Special Cases: Place Name in Title

- Use a geographical heading or subdivision if the serial focuses on activities in that place
  - e.g., Seattle magazine is about Seattle and the Pacific Northwest
651 -0 $a Seattle (Wash.) $v Periodicals
651 -0 $a Pacific Northwest $v Periodicals
- Do not use the geographical heading if the place is just that of publication and the scope is broader
  - e.g., New England journal of medicine is not limited to medicine in New England
650 -0 $a Medicine $v Periodicals.

Form Subdivisions

$v Periodicals (most common)

$v Catalogs

$v Congresses

$v Directories

$v Indexes

Subfield “v” is used to denote the form of the resource being cataloged.

Form Subdivisions

Examples:

Title: Guide to religious and inspirational magazines

650 -0 $a Religion $x Periodicals $v Bibliography
$v Periodicals.

Title: International Labour Office. Periodicals abstracted in International labour documentation in ...

650 -0 $a Labor $x Periodicals $v Bibliography
$v Periodicals.

Form Subdivisions

• Newspapers:

651 -0 $a Chicago (Ill.) $v Newspapers.

651 -0 $a Boston (Mass.) $v Newspapers.

• U.S. ethnic newspapers:

650 -0 $a African Americans $z Massachusetts
$z Boston $v Newspapers.

650 -0 $a Greeks $z Illinois $z Chicago

650 -0 $a Armenians $z United States $v Newspapers.

| Successive entry                    | The convention of creating a new record for a serial each time a major change occurs.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Supplement                          | An item, usually issued separately, that complements one already published by bringing up-to-date or otherwise continuing the original or by containing a special feature not included in the original. The supplement has a formal relationship with the original as expressed by common authorship, a common title or subtitle, and/or a stated intention to continue or supplement the original. |
| Supplied title                      | A title provided by the cataloger for an item that has no title proper on the chief source of information or its substitute. It may be taken from elsewhere in the item itself or from a reference source or it may be composed by the cataloger.                                                                                                                                                   |
| Title                               | A word, phrase, character, or group of characters, normally appearing in an item, that names the item or the work contained in it.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| Title page                          | A page at the beginning of an item bearing the title proper and usually, though not necessarily, the statement of responsibility and the data relating to publication.                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| Title proper                        | The chief name of an item, including any alternative title but excluding parallel titles and other title information.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| Title screen (Electronic resources) | In the case of a computer file, a display of data that includes the title proper and usually, though not necessarily, the statement of responsibility and the data relating to publication.                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| Updating loose-leaf                 | An integrating resource that consists of one or more base volumes updated by separate pages that are inserted, removed, and/or substituted.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |

Uniform title

1. The particular title by which a work is to be identified for cataloguing purposes. 2. The particular title used to distinguish the heading for a work from the heading for a different work. 3. A conventional collective title used to collocate publications of an author, composer, or a corporate body containing several works or extracts, etc., from several works (e.g., complete works, several works in a particular literary or musical form).

URL

Uniform Resource Locator. Location information of an electronic resource expressed in a standardized format, which allows for computer files to be sent and received automatically. The World Wide Web uses the URL as the basis of linking to other files and documents around the Internet.

Verso

1. The left-hand page of a book, usually bearing even page numbers. 2. The side of a printed sheet intended to be read second.

Volume title page

A page that contains the title and designation for an entire volume, rather than the designation for a specific issue. Volume title pages are often issued separately once the volume is complete.

Whole numbers

Continuous numbers that do not repeat. In addition to numbered serials, the term "whole numbers" is also used for alternative numbering schemes.

Appendix E: Pre-Workshop Exercises

Please print out the following exercises and complete as many of as you can. The purpose of these exercises is to help you determine what areas of serials cataloging you may want to pay particular attention to during the workshop.

Bring the completed exercises and any questions you may have with you to the workshop to facilitate discussion about the examples during the scheduled sessions.

Please also note that bibliographic information used in these exercises may have been altered to illustrate various points of serials cataloging practice.

Part A: Is It a Serial?

Give as many reasons as you think applicable in each case below.

Example 1:

|                         |                                                                                      |
|-------------------------|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Cover:                  | Today's EducationThe Journal of the National Education Association        |

| Verso of contents page: | Published once a year by ...(ISSN) 0271-3573                                     |

Is this a serial? Circle one: Yes No

1. It has enumeration/chronology.
2. It bears an ISSN.
3. The publisher's statement of frequency indicates intent to continue indefinitely.

Example 2:

It is known that the following is issued annually.

|               |                                                                                  |
|---------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| CD-ROM label: | Who's Who in Canadian Business17th Edition 1997ISSN 1209-8299 |

|--------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| First issue title page:  | Proceedings of theTwelfth Annual Symposiumon Computational Geometry    |
| Second issue title page: | Proceedings of theThirteenth Annual Symposiumon Computational Geometry |

1. Words such as "Annual" indicate this is an ongoing conference.
2. Terms like "12th" and "13th" serves as numbering.

Example 4:

Is this a serial? Circle one: Yes No

1. Title words such as "Trends in ..." and "Progress in ..." are usually interpreted to indicate intent to publish indefinitely.
2. It has enumeration and chronology.

Example 5:

It is known that the 3rd edition was published in 1989, the 4th edition in 1992, and the 5th edition in 1998.

Is this a serial? Circle one: Yes No

This title would not usually be cataloged as a serial since the editions are so infrequent.

Example 6:

|             |                                                                                                                                                                           |

Part B: Is A New Record Required?

Example 1:

|            |                                                  |
|------------|--------------------------------------------------|
| Title 1:   | Marriage and divorce statistics           |
| New issue: | Marriage, divorce and adoption statistics |

Would you create a new record? Circle one: Yes No

There is a change within the first five words of the title.

Example 2:

|            |                                 |
|------------|---------------------------------|
| Title 1:   | Organic chemistry        |
| New issue: | Organic chemistry review |

Would you create a new record? Circle one: Yes No

The addition of a word indicating the type of resource is considered to be a minor change.

Example 3:

|            |                                                                  |
|------------|------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Title 1:   | Annual report of the President's Commission on Children for 2002 |
| New issue: | President's Commission on Children annual report 2003            |

Example 4:

|            |                                                         |
|------------|---------------------------------------------------------|
| Title 1:   | Doing Business in the Czech and Slovak Republics |
| New issue: | Doing Business in the Czech Republic             |

Would you create a new record? Circle one: Yes No

There is no change within the first five words but the scope of the publication has changed significantly.

Example 5:

|          |                                                                      |
|----------|----------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Title 1: | STATISTIQUES ÉPIDÉMIOLOGIQUESET DÉMOGRAPHIQUES ANNUELLES |
|----------|----------------------------------------------------------------------|

|            |                                                                      |
|------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------|
| New issue: | ANNUAL EPIDEMIOLOGICAL ANDVITAL STATISTICS               |
|            | ANNUAL EPIDEMIOLOGICAL ANDVITAL STATISTICS               |
|            | STATISTIQUES ÉPIDÉMIOLOGIQUESET DÉMOGRAPHIQUES ANNUELLES |

Would you create a new record? Circle one: Yes No

There is no need for a new record since it is only the order of the parallel titles that has changed. A 500 note would typically be added to account for this.

Example 6:

|            |                                                                   |
|------------|-------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Title 1:   | Architectural ReviewVolume 17, April 1910              |
| New issue: | Architectural ReviewNew Series, Volume 1, January 1912 |

Would you create a new record? Circle one: Yes No

Although the enumeration has started over from volume one, there is no change in the title. The designation includes the phrase "new series" which will be included in the 362 field when edited to reflect this change.

Example 7:

|                 |                                                                                   |
|-----------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Title 1 record: | 130 Historian (Kingston, R.I.)245 The Historian.022 ISSN 0018-2370 |
| New issue:      | The HistorianISSN 0018-2370Now published: Allentown, PA            |

Would you create a new record? Circle one: Yes No

There is no need for a new record since it is the place of publication that has changed. This would be noted in a 500 field and the fixed field place of publication code would be updated.

2. transcribe and tag the title proper;
3. select and tag a main entry, if any;
4. make any title added entries thought useful; and

1. Even though the city of publication has changed, the state has not so this would not be noted nor would the fixed field Country of Publication code change.
2. The cataloger familiar with the CONSER Standard Record guidelines will notice some stylistic differences: (a) Coding for the Fixed Field (Conf, Freq, Regl); (b) 260 $c; (c) presence of 300 field; (d) formatted 362 field. However, unless the information is out of date, no modification is required. (Appendix A, General Guidelines)

2. The Frequency note (310 field) should be updated to reflect the current frequency, with a $b to show the period related to that frequency (i.e., that the serial was monthly only from some date after 1988).
3. The cataloger should preserve the previous frequency in a 321 note (as shown).

1. The Encoding level can be changed to I (or blank if CONSER library) from "7" (Minimal level).
2. Note that that publishing statement has the abbreviated form, "The Museum," which is now not used. This abbreviated form does not need to be changed, unless you wish to do so to provide better access through the 260 field.
3. The physical description could be completed, although this is not critical. (The 300 field is not needed for CONSER Standard Record maintenance anyway.)
4. Subject headings should be added to the record.
5. The earlier title link should be checked against your catalog to see if you hold the title and if so, whether the form of the linking entry matches.

Example 1:

It is known from an external source (vendor, publisher, etc.) that the title ceased publication in 1986. Volume and issue numbering are not known and the last issue in hand was published in 1985.

Session 7: Exercises

In part A, participants should indicate whether the situation calls for a new record or not and indicate their reasons. The emphasis in this section is simply on recognizing when a new record is required.

In part B, participants should complete the abbreviated workforms to indicate the tagging and coding of the relevant bibliographic data. The emphasis in this section is on closing out the old record and tagging and coding the bibliographic data in the new record.

Part A

Indicate whether the following situations require a new record or not. Also give a brief reason for your decision.

Session 8: Exercises

Part A. What is an electronic serial?

Example 1. This is a serial because:

1. Enumeration and chronology appear on the home page and link to the current issue.
2. The March/April issue is available so there are clearly designated issues.

Example 2.

This is not a serial since there are no designated issues. There is only a date of update. This is an integrating resource, despite the fact that it calls itself a journal and a magazine.
